

Q.1. Short Questions:(18)

- i. When planning a space in interior design scheme why it is important to establish the purpose for which it will be used?
- ii. If all the rooms in a house are painted in same colour scheme it will give a perception of a larger space. Why?
- iii. If one flooring style is used for all adjoining rooms on the same floor. What difference in your opinion it will create with relation to space?
- iv. An attractive window treatment that sits well within the window frame could be a perfect solution for a small space why?
- v. There are certain tricks that can be used for a small room to appear larger. State at least three such tricks.

Q.2. How can social islands be created in a large living room? And what is the purpose of using these?(06)Case Study(06)

Lucy wants to redecorate her house. It is a four bedrooms spacious house with a large living room. The living room is L-shaped at the same time it is too large with a high ceilings. One corner of the room is very dark as there is only one large window in the room which is not enough to light the whole room properly. What do you think how she should solve the problems for the followings:

1. ceilings
2. walls
3. dark corner

Also suggest the suitable flooring and window treatment.