

ASSESSMENT # 1Total Marks: 30

1. Give short answers for the following questions: (8)
 - i. How did the First World War influence fashion? Which types of changes were brought about by it?
 - ii. Describe the characteristic features of the Twentieth Century's fashion scheme.
2. Write brief note on the works of main fashion designers in the 1970s. (7)
3. How did the Nineteenth Century influence the fashion industry? What major changes came about in fashion industry in the early Nineteenth Century and why? (7)

Activity

Look through some old magazines; cut out pictures showing the fashion trends of the last two decades. Also, find some photos from the latest fashion shoots and compare them. How does modern fashion dresses differ from those of the past? Discuss in a report. (8)

Answers

1)i. In 1914-1920, women's fashion were Heavily influenced by world war 1.

Fashion took a whole new look, as the fashion designers obliterated the old fashion styles. Into a new image of freedom and self respect. The colour became sober and muted. Women were offered more tailored look which included military details along with checks and stripes.

ii, in 20th century's. fashion was inspired by the luxurious and extravagant life of the king Edward the VII. . And the lavish Edwardian period fell by the way side. As women dressed for new roles. Skirts became shorter. Trousers. Military styled jackets. Belts, and less jewellery.

2). In 1970's designers introduced freedom clothes of choices. And some designers introduced hippie and punk styles.

3). In 19th century. Fashion changed dramatically. Industrialization offered the luxuries of life. The change was influenced by shifts in taste. But more significantly by the introduction of new machines. Steam power' power looms' new dye formulas 'electricity' to ease and speed the clothing manufacturers.

Suada Osman.